A QUICK DIP AFTER A HOT DAY OF PADDLING is now an option on the local stretch of the Androscoggin River. Canoeists taking part in the "Androscoggin River. Source to the Sea Canoe Trek" passed through Bethel over the weekend, on their way downstream to the Atlantic Ocean. Their visit coincided with the announcement that the Maine Department of Environmental Protection is lifting the no swimming advisory on 15 miles of the Androscoggin, from the New Hampshire state line to the Sunday River.

DEP: local Androscoggin OK for swimming

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Canoeists and swimmers can now enjoy the local stretch of the Androscoggin River. The Maine Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) announced Wednesday that it is lifting a no-swimming advisory that had been in place for 15 miles of the river, from the New Hampshire state line to the Sunday River. The advisory was lifted because of improved water quality and the fact that the river is now free of the toxic chemicals that had caused the problem. ## 1996 Telstar graduates urged to be individuals

By ALISON ALOISIO

Memories of classmates at Telstar High School dominated the graduation ceremony for the Class of 1996 Friday, as 55 graduates received diplomas.

In welcoming family and friends, Rebecca Chandler and Jessica Coolidge described the class members as "each a piece, and together we make a puzzle" of various talents.

Third honors speaker Justin Hutchins remembered classmates -- not by name, but by personal qualities.

He described ones "who always brings humor, ignoring cliques who truly dig music and leaves it with pictures to ponder in our minds; who always puts gas in a borrowed car and shares her candy; who shares his CDs with everyone because he is friends with everyone; whose beautiful voice and smile make us step back in awe; who can swallow an entire banana because he gives everything to all that he does; who cherishes the Beatles' first and has always been told enough to do his own thing; these are only some of us," Hutchins said.

Graduation speaker Lydia Grover urged her peers to hold onto their individuality, and to not let their classmates who have "done so" "Having an individual style and doing things your own way make us one of the most important things in life," she said.

For Richardson, the other speaker, it was an encouragement to "Your life is short and fast -- it must not be wasted. Each one of you should examine your life and decide what you want. Be conservative with your life if that is what you desire, but do not be conservative because you are afraid. It is a much worse thing to Next year's Telstar High School graduation will take place on Sunday, June 17, after a vote by the school board.

The school board voted 10-2 to move the graduation from Friday night to Sunday. The board said that the move was necessary because of conflicts with the Friday night events and the playoffs the following day.

Indicted Gould Academy faculty member resigns

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Gould Academy environmental science teacher Alan Burnell, who was indicted Thursday on charges he stole $2,000 from the school's Field of Dreams project, has resigned.

Burnell joined the Gould faculty in 1995. He resigned the week for personal reasons, citing the heavy workload at the academy, according to Gould Associate Headmaster Don H. Dwyer.

"He has resigned to allow himself some time to spend on personal matters which he feels deserve the bulk of his attention," Dwyer said. "Boarding school life is extremely consuming and in the particular case of new teachers allows for little beyond it."

Burnell (who could not be reached for comment) served as treasurer of the Harrison Youth Boosters and managed the construction of the sprawling $1 million Field of Dreams sports complex on Route 117. The state alleges that during 1994 and 1995, Burnell embezzled $47,000 by writing checks to himself, to his bank and by using project money to pay a personal bill, according to detective Bill Holmes of the Cumberland County Sheriff's Department.

The disappearance of the funds has been under investigation since the fall. Last week a Cumberland County Grand Jury indicted Burnell for a Class B felony, aggregated theft, which is punishable by up to 10 years in prison.

No other charges are expected to be filed in regard to the Boosters Club finances, Holmes said.

Burnell and other members of the club initially characterized the missing funds as an internal matter, saying the money was being repaid.

Assistant District Attorney Debra Pope said Burnell has paid back $33,000, but, she said, he only began to pay the money back after questions were raised about its disappearance.

Veteran guide from Nepal learns new skills in Newry

o Urgan Sherpa has climbed on Mt. Everest, but rappelling down Maine rocks is another matter

By ALISON ALOISIO

Urgan Sherpa is a tough man. He has climbed Mt. Everest. Perhaps even more impressive, he braves Maine black flies without bug dope.

Sherpa, a member of the Sherpa clan of Nepal, is visiting the Hunt-Case Island Outward Bound School in Newry, swapping his experiences in the Himalayas for Outward Bound skills.

He and his brother, Dawa, own Shapa High Ambitions Trekking Ltd. They lead and organize hiking and climbing trips, including ascents of Mt. Everest.

Urgan himself has not made it all the way to Everest's 29,000-foot peak, but he has climbed up to 21,000 feet on the mountain. Much of his time is spent organizing technical climbs, as well as lower-altitude hikes.

OB instructor Saranne Taylor met the brothers while climbing in the Annapurna Mountain Range.

When she was about to return to the United States, Taylor asked Urgan if there was anything she could do for him. "He said, 'Yes, get me a job in the United States.'"

Urgan said he had applied for a job in Newry, but he was not hired. He said he was not hired because he was not a citizen of the United States.

STANDING FOR CHILDREN

To the Editor:

On June 1, 1996, hundreds of thousands of Americans of every race, state, region, age, income, faith and political persuasion stood together for children at the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D.C.

Americans can and must improve the quality of life for every child and put our children first. We must help and not hinder our children growing up safe, healthy, educated, productive and moral.

Every child deserves a healthy start, a safe start, a head start, a fair start and a moral start. Let's leave no child behind.

America's future is in the bodies, minds, spirits and will of our babies, children and young people. The transmission of our nation's values and real security will depend as much or more on the strength of families as on our military.

Many thanks go out to those who sponsored the group: Amanda Parsons, Mona Lowe, Deb Laurent, Susan Gillis, Dennis Wheeler Painting, West Bethel Head Start Parent Group, Crescent Park School P.T.A., West Bethel Union Church Ladies Aux., Mundt-Allen Aux., Post 81, Jackson-Silver Legion Post 68, Groen and McGurn and Bancroft Contracting

FROM THE

Bethel Town Office

It is the time of year when the Board of Selectmen and the Budget Committee spend a significant amount of time together. This group of incredibly dedicated and patient townfolk have been reviewing the proposed budget for next year since the middle of January. Both groups are in agreement and will be presenting one proposal for Town Meeting approval. The following are some generalizations offered to you for background.

The proposed town budget has been decreased to $1,367,937. The amount of $14,951 has been cut. The largest single cause is the proposed decrease of funds dedicated to Capital Improvement Projects. The replacement of a highway truck and street-sweeping equipment were put on hold. The town will be buying new sand-spreading units. Road improvements will continue on a priority-based schedule.

The next area with significant reduction is General Administration. Operating and personnel expenses have been reduced in this section. Also, the changes in personnel services has reduced the proposed Unclassified Accounts figure.

The overall highest increase by function is in Health, Welfare and Sanitation. The ever increasing volume and the disposal costs of solid waste are the reasons for this increase. An additional $35,991 will be needed to cover the cost of tipping and handling waste. This is an increase of about 13 percent. Solid Waste Management is the most expensive component of the town's budget.

Township has an increase of just over 11 percent. The town is preparing to repair and upgrade the Fire Station. This is the largest increase in this section. Second to that, the Ambulance Garage budget has increased for maintenance. Also, to note, the Town and Ambulance changes will be made in July. The cost of education was increased by 10 percent in June 1996.

Police is a significant increase in Personnel. This is primarily in the Police and Fire Departments' operating expenses. The Police Department has increased the number of reserve and special duty officers. Reserve officers provide coverage when full-time department members are sick, training or on vacation. Special Duty Officers are hired for specific functions and are not reimbursed by that department. One of the largest changes in the Police Department is the proposed budget for the increase in equipment repairs.

Public Works is showing a small increase in all areas. New for 1997, street sweeping will be contracted out. Also, one third of the street signs will be replaced. Medical expenses have increased due to new OSHA regulations. This is true for all departments.

The area of Leisure Services, there is a relatively small increase for the town's recreational department. They have an increase in the Recreation Department's budget to fund the town's commitment for summer purposes. That will be a significant expense. Other than that, most of the department's proposals were reduced. Included in the cuts were Garden Club and Free Swimming program. The request to fund the handball court was also reduced. It was reduced from $10,000 to $5,000. The town's budget for handball court was reduced from $10,000 to $5,000.

As for the town's budget, it will be presented at a Town Meeting on 7 p.m. on Wednesday, June 13, at the Crescent Park School.

Volunteers needed

The Town of Bethel is seeking volunteers to help with various town projects. These volunteers are needed for several town boards and committees. Each of these appointments have a three-year term. On June 20, 1996, the following terms will expire and present a vacancy to interested parties. Included are SADA, Airport Authority, Appeals Board, Budget Committee, Conservation Committee, Planning Board and Recreation Committee. The importance of community involvement cannot be overstated. It is vital that Bethel's citizens, interested parties need not have vast amounts of experience, but the willingness to learn and the ability to commit time and energy. The town board committee is broad based in its membership. It has been pointed out in the past that women have been under-represented on town committees. These positions are open to all candidates, women, men, young and old of diverse backgrounds, occupations, interests and viewpoints.

The Town of Bethel is extraordinarily well served by its volunteers. These volunteers are deeply about their community. It is not an easy thing to take the time from a busy day to attend a meeting. There are also times when these individuals have to make difficult decisions. Their donations of time, energy and resources help to hold our community together on a day-to-day basis. I wish to commend these concerned citizens for their commitment and encourage them, as well as others, to be involved in the future of Bethel.

Interested parties are required to complete a one-page application. Applications may be picked up at the town office and must be submitted on Friday, June 14, by noon. All applications will be reviewed by the Board of Selectmen. Please call the office with any questions.

Bethel Town Meeting likely to be quiet

By MICHAEL DANIELS

At their annual Town Meeting tonight (Wednesday), Bethel voters will tackle a warrant notably lacking in controversial items.

The proposed municipal budget is down by 1 percent, and the Board of Selectmen and Budget Committee are in agreement on their recommendations for each budget category.

There are also no new or revised ordinances to be considered.

Some minor ordinance revisions are included in the bound version of the warrant articles 31 to 38, but they were later dropped by the selectmen, because some required public hearing prior to a vote.

They are expected to be taken up at a special Town Meeting later this summer.

Also dropped was an article authorizing the selectmen to accept a heat ramp at Davis Park. The selectmen voted last week against accepting the proposed ramp.

One article that might generate discussion is number 27, which asks voters to ratify $26,500 in over-spending on legal costs.

The lawyers' fees were generated by disciplinary actions against police chief Dale Bellman and former town clerk Merton Brown.

Voters will also be asked, in article 26, to ratify over-spending in the Police Department. The money is being spent on repairs to the Fire Department's 1974 pumper truck.

The article asks for approval of $24,000 in over-spending, since the selectmen did not know when the warrant was drafted how much the repairs would cost. The actual figure is likely to be more like $12,000, according to Town Manager Madeleine Henley, and the $24,000 figure will be lowered at the Town Meeting.

Voters will also decide whether they wish to contribute to three social service organizations. The selectmen and Budget Committee made no recommendations on the articles, which were put on the warrant by citizen petition.

The proposed contributions are for Androscoggon Home Health Services ($2,000), The Western Regional Council on Addictions ($2,318) and Community Concepts ($5,345).

The Channel IV Association is also asking voters for the $8,445 Bethel receives from Frontier Cablevision.

Voters will also decide if they wish to accept the gift of the gazebo on the town common. Organizers of the gazebo project recently agreed to construct a handicapped-access ramp on the structure -- eliminating the one apparent stumbling block to the town's accepting it.

Tonight's Town Meeting will be held at 7 p.m. in the Crescent Park School.

What's Tabitha's beef?

By MIKE BROWN

Stephen and Tabitha King are multi-millionaire writers. They are also Maine patriots preferring to work and live in Bangor, rather than the glittery, arty merry-go-round of which they obviously have a paid-up brass ring dues.

The Kings are boastful of their liberal Democratic politics and give generously to those causes and Democrat political candidates. Tabitha King is also one of the 16 trustees of Maine Public Broadcasting.

Once upon a time there was a fabled MPB program, "Media Watch," and one of its panelists was the irascible columnist Tom Hanrahan, who said about the only qualification for Tabitha's trusteeship was her famous name. Tabitha, in a huff, threatened to resign. That, of course, was the end of "Media Watch."

Don Carrigan, newly appointed producer of public affairs at Maine Public Television, straight-faced rationalized disarming Tommygun by saying how short of revenue MPBV was. "When we ranked all the programs, we realized that Media Watch was one of the most dispensable programs for us to grab resources from."

Horace, the B.C. Latin lyric poet, could be called upon to explain the Carrigan spin. Said wise Homer, "How does it relieve you to pluck one thorn out of many? If you do not know how to live aright, make way for those who do."

Anyway, Tabitha King has leaped to MPB's defense again with a letter to the daily press defending public broadcasting for most of its faults and exhorting the majority Republican Congress for "attempting to eradicate public support for public broadcasting." Of course, the facts are that Congress attempted no such thing. It did reduce public tax money appropriations for the mothership Corporation for Public Broadcasting, as it should have.

King explains the recent turmoil at MPB over its new headquarters flap and elimination of its "Plus" programming on the stingy Congress and not MPB's controversial president Rob Gardiner. King said Gardiner "had no crystal ball and could not foresee the future" in regard to the amount of hand-me-down bucks coming from CPB.

One does not need soothsayer instincts to realize that two years ago CPB was going to get a smaller appropriation pie and it would be prudent for affiliates to begin a process of program cost cutting and spending.

King's spin that MPB departments were "already operating at bare bones levels" doesn't fly with the actual budget figures. In 1995, the corporation had revenue of $11,255,505 of which the public tax support was Maine State Legislature's at $2,230,570 and the CPB grant of $1,782,158.

MPBC also received $424,840 in additional government grants (which sponsors the "Quest" program) and $394,940 in donated facilities from the University of Maine system.

It had 108 regular employees whose average salaries were $29,117. Rob Gardiner's annual compensation was $96,345, which was a $14,554 raise over Gardiner's previous year's compensation. Also, the five highest paid employees, other than officers, range from $59,302 for Robert Gardner, director of major giving, to $49,643 for Paul Bunker, transmitter engineer. Twenty other employees were paid over $30,000.

Gardiner and the trustees will not disclose salaries by name (other than those required by the IRS) but rather it designates employee compensation by "wage grade" maximums and minimums. Gardiner admits that most employees are in the 90 percent of maximum grade pay, but says that when compared to national averages for public broadcasting employees, Maine is paying about 79 percent of that average.

That might be a clue that compensation for the average public broadcasting employee across the nation is well over $35,000. In comparison, the average annual pay for Maine workers in 1994 was $22,389.

The point being, what is Tabitha's beef? Maine taxpayers and its legislature probably have more pressing problems for their scarce tax dollars than government sponsored media. What those flinty, frugal congressional Republicans were saying was for CPB to clean up its elitist act and get private enterprise more involved with public broadcasting.

How ironic that Tabitha King now says, "I think we need a broadcasting system we all own in common that isn't a part of some multinational corporation with no loyalty to anyone but its shareholders."

The common good also means the common taxes. (Veteran newsmen and columnist Mike Brown writes regularly on the Augusta political scene. His views are his own and do not necessarily reflect those of The Citizen.)

THIS WEEK AT THE

Moses Mason House

Approximately 40 persons attended the June monthly meeting of the Bethel Historical Society to hear Society Director Stanley R. Howe discuss the Bethel poor from the earliest days until 1979 when the town farm buildings were demolished.

Howe noted at the beginning of his talk that it was unusual in a bicentennial year to focus on the disadvantaged rather than the prominent. He covered the first instance of town welfare in 1806, the poor auctions which began in 1818, the establishment of a town work house in the 1850s, the acquisition of the first town farm on Kimball Hill, and the second town farm in North Bethel which operated from the 1880s to the 1970s.

During the business portion of the meeting, Vice President Walter Hatch, presiding in the president's absence, announced that the next meeting would be the annual picnic to be held on the Fourth of July at West Bethel Union Church, beginning at 6 p.m. The program will feature a brief history of the church, which celebrates its centenary in 1996 and there will be panel discussion of past Fourth's in Bethel.

The vice president reminded the audience the Civil War encampment would be held on June 14-16.

AUGUSTA--A number of changes in the state's trespass laws were enacted by this past session of the Maine Legislature. Under the new law, landowners will be permitted to post against a specific activity, as opposed to simply posting "No Trespassing." The intent is that, given this new latitude, landowners may refrain from so-called blanket posting of their property against all recreational activity. Additionally, "nailless posting" with vertical silver paint marks will be permitted and will serve as legal posting against trespass. The law states that there must be visible two vertical silver paint marks, which must be between three and five feet off the ground. The paint marks or the signs cannot be farther apart than 100 feet. For more information call 287-8091.

At 7:22 p.m., a clerk at Brown's Mobil Station reported a very intoxicated subject had just come into the store. The clerk was concerned the subject might be hit by traffic. Police identified him, and found no wants or warrants out. He appeared somewhat intoxicated, but was not a danger to himself or others. No action was taken. He was given a ride into town so he would be off Route 2, and could use the phone at the Big Apple.

Sherpa

luxuries at the top of the world.) Despite Maine's ferocious bugs, Urgen is not using bug dope to ward them off.

"I don't like chemicals," he said.

Sherpa life

Taylor said Urgen has much to offer the Outward Bound instructors and students he's spending time with.

"Our lifestyles are very different. We always rush around to get things done. The Nepali way is different. They're so adaptable," she said. "They're also very fit in mind and body. The porters can carry almost their own weight up and down hills."

Urgen grew up in an 8,000-foot-altitude Sherpa village, where he worked first for his family. At age 17, he left to find work in Katmandu, Nepal's capital.

There, in 1976, he got a job planting trees with the American Peace Corps. He learned English from the members. He then worked his way through several trekking companies before founding his own in 1987.

Urgen said people outside Nepal often interpret "Sherpa" as an occupation, when, in fact, it is the name of a clan, or tribe of people.

"They grew up at high altitudes, and they are strong. They do physical work, so it is easy to get a job (such as a porter)," he said. One Sherpa, for instance, climbed to the summit (of Mt. Everest) nine times without oxygen.

Climbing the world's highest peak is not a time-honored Sherpa tradition, however. Clan members did not seriously think about climbing it before Westerners showed interest in the 1920s.

Urgen agrees the Nepalese are more easygoing than westerners. "They do not rush, they do not worry too much. They don't have much, but they are happy," he said of his people.

But his own experience in working with Westerners has had its effect on him. "I changed my mind to do things a little faster," he said.

Most of his company's treks are hikes, rather than technical climbing. But, "if they want to go to Everest, that's O.K. -- I'll take them," he said.

It was Urgen who made the arrangements for a Mt. Everest climb for Greg Wilcox of North Conway, N.H. Wilcox and others successfully reached the summit in 1991.

What will he tell Everest clients who may be nervous about eight recent fatalities that occurred during a sudden storm on the mountain?

"They had unusual weather. They had bad luck," he said. He would also tell potential clients, "If you had bad luck, you could die at home. You could be struck by lightning."

"Some climbers are not qualified. They want to go, and be famous," he said.

While Everest climbers must first get a permit from Nepal's Ministry of Tourism and have their climbing experience checked, Urgen said he would not take anyone who still did not seem qualified.

"I would encourage them to go elsewhere (on an easier climb). It's my business to make money -- and make sure they get home safely," he said.

Board

"Most of them are awake all night, and when they go home, they, for the most part, are too tired to party. So the result is, less teenage parties Saturday night."

Bethel resident Jane Lowe agreed, in her own letter. She said changing to Sunday would allow more opportunity for pre-graduation parties on Friday and Saturday, with potentially tragic results.

But Wight disagreed. "Anyone who thinks they'll be too tired to party Saturday (following a Friday ceremony) doesn't remember what it's like to be 17," she said.

Others opponents of the change argued the date should not be changed for the sake of a few athletes. Lowe wrote, "To change the date and time of graduation due to athletic events sends a message that sports is more important than recognizing the academic achievements of the senior class."

Director John Brown said, "When you go out for sports you take your chances. I think it's a decision an individual has to make at the time -- not a decision of the board."

Tradition and the opportunity for long-distance travelers to travel home over Saturday and Sunday were also reasons given to keep the status quo.

Assistant principal Carroll Higgins said a survey of next year's seniors showed them divided over the dates. However, a large percentage simply didn't care, "as long as they get their diplomas," said Higgins.

The board eventually voted 573-314 to change to Sunday.

Jenkins' evaluation delayed
Trouble over Supt. Ron Jenkins' evaluation kept the board in session until after 11 p.m.

Jenkins' contract calls for him to be evaluated annually, in November. Personnel Committee chairman Debbie Gilbert said Jenkins has not had an official evaluation in three years -- since he has been with the district. Problems with the process have led the board and Jenkins to put it off.

In the latest evaluation effort, the committee last month sent out evaluation forms to the SAD44 administrative and central office staff. Some have been returned.

The staff members were promised confidentiality, with only the personnel committee members seeing the completed forms. Staff had the choice of signing them.

The superintendent, however, has a right to see all documents pertaining to his evaluation. Gilbert said Jenkins was aware of the letter's content.

Difficulties with the timeline for completing the evaluation have also again muddled the waters.

The board went into executive session Monday night to discuss a letter from SAD44's attorney regarding the process.

Directors ultimately voted to have the Personnel Committee go back to the drawing board on the evaluation process, and bring a plan to the full board by Sept. 1. How the already-completed forms will fit into the scenario remains to be seen.

In other business, Jenkins told the board he had learned the district may bill Medicaid for some expenses relating to the education of special ed students.

That could save the district between $25,000 and $40,000 dollars. Billable services could include speech therapy and some of the day programs that require an educational technician, Jenkins said.

The district will use Maine State Billing Services to handle the paperwork initially, at a charge of 13 percent of the money retrieved. SAD44 would likely eventually take over the process itself, Jenkins said.

River

bearing age not to eat any fish from the river. Other people are advised to eat no more than one fish per month from the river.

But the days of the dioxin warning may also be limited.

Dioxin is a by-product of the traditional chlorine-bleaching process used by paper mills, but a new technology being in use at the Crown Vantage paper mill in Berlin may drop the dioxin level in the river to the point where the advisory could be eliminated, Mower said.

The new process uses chlorine dioxide rather than chlorine. While not eliminating dioxin entirely, the process reduces it to undetectable levels.

It takes two or three years for a reduction in dioxin to show up in the fish samples, Mower said.

And it has now been two years since the Berlin Mill stopped using chlorine, according to Crown Vantage scientist Dr. Ray Danforth.

"We've tested the effluent from the mill and from the bleachery, and neither has detectable levels of dioxin," Danforth said.

Since the mill stopped using chlorine, he said, the concentration of dioxin in trout samples has dropped to less than 1 part-per-trillion.

Prior to the elimination of chlorine, he said, the tests had shown 3 to 5 PPT.

In 1990, tests of fish from various parts of the Androscoggin River showed an average dioxin contamination of nearly 21 PPT.

KIT CAME HOME—Werner Kohlmeyer of Bethel was reunited with his golden retriever, Kit, late last month after the four-year-old dog was lost for three months. Kohlmeyer, owner of the L'Auberge Inn, let Kit out the first week in March. He never came back, and Kohlmeyer put posters up all over town to try to locate him. "I thought someone had stolen him, and that he was living happily in Connecticut or Massachusetts," Kohlmeyer said. He had several calls from the posters, but they turned out to be other dogs, and about a month ago he gave up hope of seeing Kit again. He even got another dog in the meantime -- another golden named Tory, Kit's cousin. But on May 23, Bethel Inn employee Steve Polli saw a dog matching the poster photo dart through the inn parking lot. It disappeared, however, before he could check the collar. Polli's friend, Val Elmore, suggested they take some hot dogs to the parking lot to try to lure the dog back. It worked. About midnight, they called Kohlmeyer. A tearful reunion in the inn's Recreation Center followed. "He (Kit) was exhausted and looked like he had been traveling. I thought he had been some distance away and had worked his way back. I think he sensed I had gotten another dog and got jealous," said Kohlmeyer.

Main St. P.O. site still alive

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The United States Postal Service has given supporters of the post office site on Main Street until June 28 to come up with an acceptable proposal.

USPS real estate specialist Terry Brooks wrote to Town Manager Madeleine Henley last week, saying he was postponing a final decision as a result of a telephone conversation and letter from selectman Dutch Dresser.

Dresser made the case for razing the current building and keeping the post office in the center of the village.

In Brooks' letter to Henley, he restated the space requirements of a new site. The most difficult of those requirements to meet, Brooks said later, is square footage.

The USPS requires 4,000 SF, with the potential to add another 2,000 SF. The present building has approximately 2,000 SF, Brooks said.

If an acceptable Main Street proposal cannot be put together, the USPS has indicated a clear preference for placing the new post office in Bethel Station.

Dresser said later that the town would have to move quickly if it is to keep the post office on Main Street.

"I have entered the fray on this issue because it is clear to me that the only site within the borders favored by many citizens with real advantage to existing downtown businesses is the site of today's post office," he said. "What makes that location so valuable in its support of downtown businesses is its walking proximity to so many other businesses and services. A post office user can park the car once and do lots of other errands within short walking distance. No other available site has that advantage."

"If the existing site can't be made to serve, I favor the Bethel Station site, since it will have ample opportunity for vehicular traffic and won't upset a quiet residential neighborhood."

"Even suggesting the site of the current post office is likely presumptuous without proper communication with current owners, but the U.S. Postal Service decision was going forward quickly. To keep the wishes of the public alive on this matter, a viable alternative suggestion had to be offered for consideration. It will be important to have conversations with the appropriate parties if this option is to be fully explored within the allotted time."

Andover

by Karen McKay
The Recreation committee would like to announce that there will be swimming lessons offered to Andover children this summer at Roxbury Pond. The dates are not available at this time but will be announced soon. The Recreation budget will be paying for the lessons on a first come, first serve basis with limited funds being allocated for this activity. Parents may have to pay for a portion or for all of the swim lessons, depending on the number of children signing up.

The Community Yard Sale is scheduled for Saturday, June 22, rain or shine. You still have time to finish those craft items, clean out the attic and straighten out the closet before it happens. Anyone interested in selling wares on the common or advertising on the Service Circle's map of participating homes should contact Cindy at 392-2051.

Those of you that discover treasures and/or other items during your spring cleaning, and wish to avoid the hassles of holding a sale, can donate your goods to the First Congregational Church's White Elephant Sale to be held in August. Items may be dropped off at the church on Thursday evenings and Saturday and Sunday mornings, or contact Jane at 392-3761.

The public library will hold a Great Book Sale on Saturday, June 16 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., to coincide with the community yard sale day.

Members of town who graduated from Telma Regional High School this year are Kara Bartlett, Sadie Ballant, Sam Hawkes, Justin Williams, Mary J. Learned, Ian Richardson, Wesley Richardson, Scott Harrison and Scott Waite. Erin Dubois will also graduate, she is a member of the class of 1996 at the Mexico Christian Academy. Congratulations to all of you, enjoy your future!

The Elementary school students and chaperones enjoyed a day trip last week exploring Peak's Island, off the coast of Portland.

Quite a crowd gathered Saturday to attend a workshop on growing Ginseng, sponsored by the Umbagog Naturalist Institute on the East B Hill Road. The Institute will offer various seminars throughout the summer and will utilize the town hall building to accommodate some of the groups.

Karen McKay met up with Lynn Thurston in Gorham, Maine and traveled to Wellesley, Mass. to attend a graduation party for Charles Kerchner. Fran and Wayne were hosting the celebration for their son's graduation from Wellesley High School.

Mr. and Mrs. William Swan traveled to Columbia, N.H. to visit with their daughter Kaye's family on Saturday. While there, they attended Erica's kindergarten school graduation ceremony, and Jeremy's fourth birthday party. Also attending the birthday party from town were Carson and Dale McKay.

Happy Father's Day to all dads on Sunday.

Bethel

by Phyllis Dock
Former Bethel residents Bob and Jane Grover made a "door yard" call on Jason and Phyllis Smith this past week. When the Smiths learned that Jane would be celebrating her 81st birthday, they promptly invited them to dinner in Berlin to celebrate the coming event.

Lenny and Becky Shaw and family joined approximately 150 eighth-grade students from Telstar Middle School on a white-water rafting outing on the Kennebec River last Friday.

Frances Saunders, Betty Perkins, Rachel MacKay and Muriel Butters attended the retirement reception honoring the Reverend and Mrs. Richard Hamilton, held at the State Street Methodist Church in Gorham last week.

Austen Ryerson, son of Keith and Becky Ryerson, was baptized at the Bethel United Methodist Church on June 2. His parents, grandmother, great-grandmother and aunt were present.

Adam Craig, son of Dewaine and Amy Craig, spent last week with the Washington State fire fighting team in Seattle, Wash.

The Maine Optometric Conference, organized by Leonard Shaw, O.D., was held at the Summit Hotel last week.

Many friends, relatives and family helped Carolyn Brooks celebrate her 75th birthday at a lovely party given by her family in the Meeting Room of the Dr. Moses Mason House.

East Bethel

It is hard to believe that June is here even though all signs tell us so.

The days are alive with sound, increasing day by day from cold March.

These sounds go with the daisies in the field and the roses of June. We can hear the hummings and buzzings and rustling through the long daylight hours. There is no true silence now. This alone, is the voice of summer.

Six months ago we had only a little over nine hours of sunlight. Now there are about fifteen with the year's longest day just ahead. So everything evens out.

Wild strawberries ripen, the rains have helped the soil, butterflies brighten the hillsides, brooks laugh their way to the sea, a dragonfly invites you to the pond's edge and that big black and gold insect, the bumblebee, is busy. This insect is moderate in many ways. It saves its energy by often nesting in homes of field mice near a clover field. It even sleeps when its tired or at night in an aster bloom or a zinnia. We can't say that about some other insects. It tolerates man if he lets it alone. It has no desire to be domesticated.

June is a vacation dreamed about, as well as so many things. Let's enjoy it!

Several from here enjoyed their class reunions from West Paris High School on Saturday. Ann Holt entertained her class at her home before the banquet in West Paris.

Dorothy Betts and Ann Holt were in North Conway to attend a school festival.

Ann Holt had visitors on the weekend: Nancy Hutton and her aunt.

David and Mary were at the farm on Sunday.

Vicky Campbell came to visit me recently.

North Newry

by Gil Seeley
Newry Community Church services were held on Sunday with Pastor Rodney Hanscom at the pulpit and daughter Nancy at the organ. The message of the day was: "Blessed Trinity," from John 1:5-7. "For there are three that bear record in Heaven, the Father, the Word, and the Holy Ghost, and these three are One."

The Newry Community Church Ladies Circle met Monday, June 3, at President Sylvia Wight's residence. She opened the meeting with devotion, "Does honesty really pay?" A roll call was done by secretary/treasurer Freda Robertson, notes from the last meeting, and finances brought up to date. She also passed around a letter from Polly Brown of the New Tribe Mission. Cards of thanks were read from the Hanscom family and Nancy and husband. There was discussion on how to sell chances on a beautiful quilt that Freda made -- more on this later. Also a probable food sale later on in the summer. Next meeting will be July 8, at 12:30 p.m. at Freda's. The meeting was adjourned and coffee and pie were enjoyed.

Bowling at the Oxford Hills Lanes were Betsy Clark, Karlene Bachelder and Gil Seeley. Betsy was high on the triples and Karlene was high on the singles, beating Betsy by three pins. Karlene had three spares and one strike. Betsy had seven spares.

Sylvia and Bill Wight attended the Republican Convention in Augusta last week and met Susan Collins, Bill Cohen, John Hathaway, Bob Monks and a few other good Republicans.

The Windy Valley Snowmobile Club met Tuesday, June 4, at the Town Building with Owen Wight presiding. Secretary Sylvia Harrington read the notes of the last meeting and took some more during the evening. Treasurer Bob Lowell brought the finances up to date. M.S.A. Director/Alt. Sylvia and Bill Wight reported on the annual meeting of the M.S.A. on May 21 at the Augusta Elks Club. There was no safety report. Trail Master Leon Dunn reported on the trail repair, etc. Get ready, get set, for the big Lawn Sale at Newry corner on June 15, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Donations are welcome and appreciated. Call 824-2262. Next meeting will be Sept. 3, 7 p.m., at the Town Building, with election of officers. Coffee and pie were enjoyed and the meeting adjourned.

Hiedi, Arlan, Julie and Jody spent time with her parents, Ras and Karlene Bachelder.

Father's Day, June 16, "It is a wise father that knows his own child."

Don't forget to sign up for Storyland. Notify the Newry Recreation Committee TODAY to reserve a pass for your Newry child. Meeting time is 9 a.m. at the front gate on Monday, June 17.

Attention -- all interested 13-15 year olds in the Junior Maine Guides trip. There will be an informational meeting at the Newry Town Office on Thursday, June 27, at 7 p.m. Please attend. The trip will take place July 1, 2 and 3. It will be great for everyone!

Also mark your calendars for Community Day, Sunday, June 23 at noon. Please bring a salad or dessert, and the Newry Recreation Committee will provide the hamburgers, hot dogs and fixins'. There will be fun and games for every age group, pie-eating contest and traditional softball game. Don't miss it!

by Shane Billings
On Saturday, June 1, a yard sale was held on the lawn of the late Lee and Emma Billings.

Louise Chapman, Sue Silver, Mac and Bridget Billings participated, and the weather was quite nice.

There was a big turnout at the monthly hymn sing on Friday, with 33 people showing up to sing at the North Woodstock Meeting House.

Around town: Paul McInnis came up on Sunday to visit Rob and Norma Davis. Kara and Crystal Jacques went out to eat at Kentucky Fried Chicken. Rob Davis, Michelle McInnis and Clara Whitman attended a graduation in South Paris. Shane Billings went with Laura Scamies and Sarah Stowell to Snow Falls for a picnic and then to Auburn for some shopping.

Being honored at the spring sports awards on Monday, June 3, were Jason Billings, Jason Rosenberg and Michelle McInnis.

If anybody has news, please contact us at 665-2074. Thank you, and that's it this week from North Woodstock!

A South Woodstock high school student who graduated from Telstar High School last week is Siiri Kressey. I missed her before. Sorry Siiri. Congratulations and much luck in the future.

Gordon "Yogi" Dillingham has been in Stephens Memorial Hospital recently with a heart attack. He is home now but must take it easy for a while.

The Spring Concert was held at Woodstock Elementary School last week. It was well attended and had a western theme, with many well-known songs sung by the WES students. Linda Stowell does a good job of getting these concerts together. Although I haven't attended recently, I always enjoy them.

Phelps Poland has been laid up for a couple of weeks after having a minor operation.

Sherri Curley won the spelling bee at WES this week. Sherri is in the fifth grade.

Promotion night was Wednesday, for the WES fifth grade students who will be attending Telstar Middle School next year.

Buster and Claribel Poland celebrated their 58th wedding anniversary on June 3. They received many cards, phone calls, a fruit basket, letters and visits. Congratulations and many more.

Alex Poland graduated from eighth grade at Forestdale School on Wednesday night. Alex is the son of Lloyd and Gina Poland.

I was pleased to hear that Darcy Robertson and Austin Hayes both received large scholarships from the Albert Jackson fund. Darcy is the daughter of Ann Buck and Matt Robertson. Austin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Hayes of West Paris.

Kellie Hart was awarded the first certificate in the new clerical program at Oxford Hills Adult Ed. Kellie graduated from Telstar High School and has worked many years for the SAD44 district. She has worked for seven years as a custodian of the Woodstock Elementary School. Kellie has also earned 30 credits in the social services program at the University of Maine. A former South Woodstock girl, she now resides in South Paris with her two teenage daughters, Sarah and Jessie. Congratulations, Kellie!

Those celebrating June birthdays are: Megan Mack, Craig Ryerson, Duane Ryerson, Brandy Poland, Gary Crisler, Danielle Appleby, Alishia Miclon and Elaine Wilday.

The first Willing Workers meeting to be held in quite a while was on Wednesday night at the Union Church in South Woodstock. The future of the organization was discussed. The members present paid back dues and made donations to help defray some of the costs of keeping the building running. Any member or non-member who would like to make a donation would be greatly appreciated. You can send them to Maria Clements, 63 Andrews Road, Bryant Pond, 04219.

Hello readers! Let's see, what's going on? Ron and Betty Jordan stopped in town to do some town business and say hello. Uncle Ron's Mt. Preserves, including delicious dillie beans and other favorites should be back in the Trading Post soon.

The Jordons opened a store on Lisbon Street in Lewiston called North Star Exchange. They carry crafts, clothes, furnishings, a consignment area, fresh produce and of course Uncle Ron's Mt. Preserves. Congrats, Ron and Betty!

Margaret Mitchell had a pleasant lunch at the Chef's Table in Norway, to celebrate Marian York's birthday. Also attending the celebration were Marian's brother, Mike and his daughter Bunnie.

Word has it that Fred Judkins is heading north again and should be here any day now.

School is winding down and the students are winding up.

Marie Aron reports that her daughter Lisa had a successful and rewarding kindergarten year at CPS. The class went to Portland last Thursday. They visited the Discovery Zone, the Children's Museum and took a ferry to Peak's Island. On Tuesday, the class went to Papoose Pond. Monday, June 10, was step-up day. Mitchell Aron attended. Last day for CPS is Friday, June 14.

Sue Nelson reports that at Errol Consolidated School, Steven Lavallee came in first place with his partner Leon Wentworth in the doubles badminton tournament, and also won second place in singles for grades six through eight. Steven will be entering the eighth grade next year.

Sam Grondin's class traveled to Franconia to see the Old Man of the Mountain.

Jessica and Courtney Lavallee took a trip to the Sweat's Farm in Errol to see the new barn and to plant pumpkin seeds.

Kindergarten, first and second grades went to the Balsams on Monday to swim, have lunch and play on the playground.

Last day of school for Errol is Friday, June 14, with a half day and cookout.

The latest on the new campground is, we're still working out the details with Coe's County on zoning issues. We're hoping for the 20th!

Trivia time: In the early 1900s, the steamer Alligator used for towing wood on the Pond in the River, was equipped with unique propellers which could be raised in shallow water and lowered in deeper water. This was taken from Northwood Echoes by Richard Pinette.

Franklin Grange 124 met on Monday evening, June 3, with 19 members present. It was election of officers and Memorial services. Voted in the same slate of officers. Memorial program was as follows: song by all, "Nearer My God to Thee"; service at the altar for departed members; memorial address by Laura Hutchins; Dot Canwell, Bertha Benoit and Laura Hutchins sang "Beyond the Sunset"; reading by Lettie Brooks, "If Heaven be no more than a country road"; Flanders Field by Bertha Benoit; mystery march; closing by all "Blest be the tide"; closing thought by Bertha Benoit. Next meeting is CWA meeting with a potluck supper before the meeting. Alice Roberts is in the hospital.

Every Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. and Thursdays at 7 p.m. is Bryant Pond Hour on Channel IV TV.

The Woodstock Extension will meet on June 19, 10:30 a.m., at Barbara Hathaway's Hideaway for a potluck lunch and planning meeting.

The Historical Society values your support and interest. Visit the museum or attend a meeting. Help out financially. Become a member and give of your time and energy to the organization. Society members watch the museum in the summer. Let them know you appreciate it. They want you to enjoy your visit and will try to help you out and answer your questions. Robert, Mary and Larry Billings watched the museum on opening day. It is open every Saturday from June until September from 1 to 4 p.m.

Thelma Simoneau of Laconia spent several days last week with Lena Mustonen.

West Paris Alumni Banquet was well attended by 153 members and guests. The members of the 1956 class were Phyllis Young, Pauline Smith, Faye Holt and Glenn Emery. From the 1946 honored class were Dorothy (Perham) Farrar, Helen (Ross) Farrar, Audrey (Chase) Hadley, Frances (Ellingwood) Haney, Miriam (Pirainen) Inman, Lorraine (Newell) Turner, Florence (Andrews) Whynot, Sherman Cole, Erwin Heath and William Flavin (who was not able to stay for the banquet, but did come to the socializing before to visit with us). The Banquet honored Dorothy D. Ross, who taught commercial subjects for 45 years, with most of the time here in West Paris. After the meeting, music was provided by Lenwood Andrews, Ivan Proctor, Glenn Emery and "Zeke" Trask.

Congratulations are in order for Darcy Robertson and Austin Hayes on being awarded the Albert Jackson Scholarship. We are so pleased! Glad to hear that Aunt Millie is back at Songo Pond for the summer.

I just heard that Ivan Proctor has been admitted to Stephens Memorial Hospital.

Howdy friends! This is Tuesday morning, June 4, and it's on the rather wet side here, from rain that started last evening. Some people say that we need some rain, but I could do without it at the present time.

Callers of the Lovejoy family this week have been Francis and Glenice

Brooks from Bryant Pond, and Ervin and Ellen Cole from Locke Mills. The Lovejoy family was at their camp on North Pond last Sunday, where they had a birthday gathering for Mary Lovejoy's mother, Impi Mack.

Sister Laura brought me some broccoli plants that she had started. I'd already started some myself, but I'll probably find room for both kinds. Laura got some of our rhubarb, so I'd call that a fair swap. Daisy May, Laura's dog, always enjoys visiting us.

After returning from the Emerson Merrill's on Monday, we brought home a desk belonging to Peggy. Loretta had been using it earlier, and it nearly lost a leg from rough usage. We decided to amputate it, and performed some serious surgery, and now it is as solid, or nearly so, as it was in the beginning. I also built an addition for more space on the back of it. After doing the carpenter work, I rototilled the garden.

We went downtown for groceries and errands on Thursday. Peggy had some mending to return to Market Square Nursing Home, and on our way back home we stopped at Doc Merrill's to pick up a roll of wire he wanted to get rid of. There is more wire and metal stakes than I need, and we'll stop for them some time when it's not raining.

As Peggy knew she wouldn't be home Saturday, she made two pies on Friday, for Saturday night's dance.

Sister Laura came down from East Andover Saturday morning, and we joined her for a trip to Oxford Grange Hall to help work the Grange degrees. Laura had to stop at Paris Farmer's Union, as she had purchased one pail a few days earlier, and had been charged for two pails.

At Oxford Grange Hall, we were offered coffee and doughnuts while waiting for degree working time. We all filled offices, myself as master, Sister Peggy as assistant steward and Sister Laura as chaplain. Three other Franklin Grange members helped at working the degrees, Wilma Day as lady assistant steward, Lucy Robbins as Flora, and Dorothy Canwell as pianist. The first and second degrees were worked on by five candidates in the forenoon. The degree work went quite nicely, but we were all glad when it was finished.

We came back home and Laura left for East Andover, with my old electric lawn mower and more of our good rhubarb to make pies.

THE QUICK FIX FOR YOUR FIXER-UPPER

Maybe your siding is sagging. Maybe your windows are just a little too open - even when they're closed. Or maybe there's a home maintenance job you've never had the money to complete.

Whatever the task, the Maine State Housing Authority would like to help. Through FIX ME, qualified fixed or low-income Maine homeowners can take very low-interest rate loans to complete just about any repair or maintenance project imaginable.

Does your home need a fix-up? For more information on FIX ME, Call Community Concepts, Inc. at 207-743-7716 or MSHA at 1-800-452-4668.

THE SCOREBOARD SAID IT ALL
 Victory just wasn't in the cards Saturday for the Telstar High School baseball team. They lost 5-0 to Hall-Dale High School in a Western Class C semi-final playoff game in Hallowell. The Rebels had advanced to the semi-finals with a 16-0 win last Thursday against Traip Academy. They finished their season with a 11-5 record. Telstar first baseman Adam Newell is shown here, at right.

Telstar sports

High School Baseball

Telstar 16, Traip 0

June 6--Telstar erupted for nine runs in the fifth inning and went on to a 16-0 victory over Traip Academy in quarter-final playoff action. Tim Hebert was tough on the mound, going six innings and allowing only two hits. Wade Luxton closed things in the seventh, Adam Newell and Jason Berry led the way offensively with three hits apiece. Luxton, Josh Adams and Nate Whitworth each had a pair of hits while Clint Myers, Kurt Thurston and Jerry Bernier each singled.

Hall-Dale 5, Telstar 0

June 8--The Rebels ended their season with a 5-0 defeat at Hall-Dale. It was the first time Telstar had been shut out in two years. Kurt Thurston was the standout at the plate, going two for three with a double and a single. Clint Myers, Adam Newell and Nate Whitworth also singled. The Rebels finished the season with an 11-5 regular season record and 20-5 record for all games played.

High School Track

June 8--The Telstar girls' team (two girls represented the school) finished 12th in a field of 26 at the Class C State Championships. Malinda Gilbert won the pole vault event. Dawn Waisanen took third in the javelin.

Agnes Gray School

by Marta Clements

The year is winding down with lots of projects coming in, and fun activities taking place.

Normally the Pledge of Allegiance and the singing of patriotic songs is done in individual classrooms. However, our schools will be celebrating Flag Day by learning about the history and symbolism of our flag. On Friday, June 14, we will all gather outdoors around the flag pole and salute the flag together. This is one more activity that brings the whole school together to promote pride in ourselves, our school, our community, our state and our nation.

The sixth-graders are creating the 1996 Yearbook which will be published the week of June 17. They are working on volcano projects with their third-grade buddies, working on final book reports, and looking forward to their science field trip to Kettle Cove.

My fifth-graders have finished their unit on space and held a mini science fair. Grades 2-6 came to our room to view the projects and ask the students questions about what they had learned. Our final space project will be to launch the rocket made by Erik Poland and Ryan Dillingham. We will be presenting our musical show, Let's Hear it For America, Wednesday, June 12 at 2:15 p.m.

Our two fourth grades are working on individual projects on the regions of the U.S. These projects are due on June 17. They are studying the digestive system and nutrition in science class.

The third-grade Super Brains had the most readers for the RIF Read-a-thon. Congratulations! Each morning this class begins with a class meeting they call their Pow-Wow.

They start with a greeting. Then news, information, questions and classroom issues are discussed and resolved at the meeting. Mrs. Morrill says it really starts the day off well.

The second- and third-graders have prepared for their trip to the Norlands in their study of pioneer life. They are going on June 13. The children have been bringing in cans and bottles to help pay for the trip. Sarah Brulotte was one who did a lot of reading, and brought in the most money for RIF. She was treated to a pizza luncheon with Mrs. Cindy Johnson, the RIF teacher.

The first-graders are learning about imagination. They read a story called Josephine's Imagination, discussed the meaning, then created some fantastic watercolor paintings. This was followed by story writing. Mrs. Mullen says it looks like the first grade may produce some excellent authors! First-graders, like all children, love water. Therefore, they are really enthusiastic about their science unit experimenting with things that sink or float.

The kindergarten, with the help of parent volunteer, Mrs. Westleigh, is preparing for their study of the community and school helpers' week. They are also into their teddy bear project, bringing their favorite teddy bear to school all week, measuring and weighing them, then preparing a graph. Of course they will have their teddy bear picnic at the end.

MUSIC MINISTRY

The Bethel Alliance Church will host the singing group "Commission" on Friday, June 14, at 7 p.m. The student touring music ministry of Nyack College in Nyack, N.Y., will present a program of traditional and contemporary Christian music as well as personal testimonies.

The public is invited to attend. For further information regarding the concert, contact the church office at 207-824-2289.

CIVIL-WAR-ERA PREACHING

In connection with the Bicentennial's Heritage Weekend, a special worship service will be held this Sunday at the West Parish Congregational Church in Bethel. A chaplain will come to the church from the Civil War Encampment on the common and preach a sermon similar to those which church folks would have heard in the 1850's and 60's.

Charles McGillicuddy portrays the Rev. Henry Leonard, a chaplain with the Third Maine Infantry Regiment. He has carefully researched the Civil War period using soldiers' letters, a book of the Rev. Leonard's sermons and other materials.

In his work as a nurse at Togus, McGillicuddy has specialized in counseling veterans suffering from post traumatic stress disorder. Although PTSD is a recently named problem, McGillicuddy has been interested to find the effects of wartime stress in the Civil War materials he has studied.

The worship service begins at 10:30 a.m. Childcare is provided and all are invited to attend.

ARTS COUNCIL MEETING

On Sunday, June 23, the Mahoosuc Arts Council will hold its Annual Meeting at the home of Paula and Dillon Gillies in Locke Mills. The meeting will begin at 6 p.m. with a brief business meeting followed by a social gathering and potluck supper.

All interested members of the community are invited to attend. This is an opportunity to meet with the board of directors and to share information and ideas. Directions to the Gillies home may be obtained by calling 875-2009.

The Mahoosuc Arts Programming Committee is in the process of scheduling the 1996-97 season, and would appreciate suggestions, either at the annual meeting or by calling the Mahoosuc Arts office at 824-3575.

GREENWOOD HISTORICAL

Seventeen members and one guest attended the meeting of the Greenwood Historical Society Wednesday, June 5, with President Joan Kimball presiding.

Members will meet at the building on June 18 at 6:30 p.m. to do some cleaning.

Mellen Kimball reported that a test had been done on water from the well that was dug last year, and a good report was received.

The building will be open to visitors through July and August. Ellsworth and Joyce Hathaway will welcome guests on July 6 from 1 to 4 p.m.

The society was sorry to hear of the death of member Frank Packard. A memorial service was held at the Locke Mills Union Church on Saturday, June 1, and burial was at Mt. Abram Cemetery in Locke Mills.

Evelyn Johnson talked about her

Riders returning $35 in pledges will receive a T-shirt, while those returning $75 will receive a sports bag and T-shirt. Certificates will be given to all riders.

For more information call Bernice Caddigan or Marilyn Swan at 824-2839.

VIEW OF FINLAND

Slides taken in Finland will be shown on June 16, 2 p.m., at the monthly meeting of the Finnish American Heritage Society of Maine. The meeting will be at the Heritage Center in West Paris.

Sue Lee, who works for Resource and Conservation Development in Augusta, toured central Finland and west to the Russian border in 1994 with state and Finnish geologists and soil scientists.

A welcome is extended to all those interested in furthering their acquaintance in or of things Finnish. For information, call 743-6682 or 527-2253.

Graduates

wonder what might have been than to have tried something and decided it was not for you.

"Everyone has a role in society. Dictate what yours is -- do not let it be spelled out for you," he said.

In "Reflections" Sadie Gallant and Katie Groves also remembered classmates and thanked teachers for their encouragement and help through the years.

School board vice chairman Ray Harrington advised the graduates to set goals, develop good standards of character and life, and stay up to date and informed on their options.

In saying farewell, class members Benjamin Fogg and Daniel Wigley likened the class members to a "rack of pool balls on the table of our lives ... now is the time to break."

It has been a tradition for each graduate, on receiving a diploma, to hand principal Ted Davis an item symbolic of the class. This year, pretend cherry bombs were the choice.

Telstar was the object of bomb threats during both the freshman and senior years of the Class of 1996.

DARE GRADUATES—Every member of the sixth grade class successfully graduated from the Drug Abuse Resistance Education program at Telstar Middle School last week. The course provides information about drugs and their abuse in the community. It also teaches decision-making skills, self-esteem and how to say no to pressure from peers. Here, student Mike Gordon receives a DARE T-shirt from middle school principal Dick Blackman. At left is volunteer Jeannine Buck, and in the background at right, Bethel police Sgt. Darren Tripp.

White Mountain National Forest

Join Patti Dugan-Henriksen, information assistant for the White Mountain National Forest on Wednesday, June 26 at 7:30 p.m. at the Androscoggin Ranger Station in Gorham, N.H. or on Friday, June 28 at 8 p.m. at the Dolly Copp Campground Visitor Center for a slide show celebrating the unusual alpine plants found on and around Mt. Washington. This program, free and open to the public, begins this year's series co-sponsored by the Androscoggin Ranger District of the White Mountain National Forest and the White Mountain Interpretive Association.

"Visitors can explore the natural and cultural history of the White Mountains and the world through a variety of programs during July and August," commented Dugan-Henriksen. "Families can join a Forest Service naturalist for a guided nature walk to discover the fields, woodlands and water around the new Androscoggin Ranger Station each Saturday afternoon at 3 p.m. You can learn about the Abenaki during the Native American Cultural Celebration from July 21 through 27 or share your memories and make new ones during our 75th Anniversary Celebration from Aug. 10 through 17 at Dolly Copp Campground."

In addition to these special events, evening programs will be held on Fridays at Dolly Copp Campground and Saturdays at both Dolly Copp and Hastings Campground. For more information or a complete listing of programs, please contact the Androscoggin Ranger Station, 300 Glen Road, Gorham, 603-466-2713, TTY 603-466-2856.

Middle Intervale Quilt Show

A quilt show, sponsored by the Middle Intervale Meeting House Society, will be held June 29 at the meeting house on the Middle Intervale Road in Bethel, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

This 10th-annual event will highlight the interior of this historic building, the oldest surviving religious structure in Bethel, dating from 1816.

All types of quilts, both old and new, are now being accepted for the show. Anyone with a quilt that he or she wishes to be considered for the show is urged to call June Abbott 836-2301, or Shireen Vincent 836-2918, for an application. The deadline for accepting applications is June 21.

A raffle of a "Galaxy Star" quilt is also being held on the day of the show, and you need not be present to win. Tickets are available from various society members and from Cross Country Quilters.

All proceeds will be used to continue the ongoing preservation of the meeting house.

From the Bethel Bicentennial Committee

By NATALIE TIMBERLAKE

Song, story, dance and special effects will recall moments of 200 years of Bethel history. The Bicentennial Pageant is set for Friday, Aug. 9, in Bingham Auditorium. Casting is now going on. There are 40 speaking parts and about as many walk-on roles. As much as possible, actors and actresses will "double-up" on some of the parts.

Some of the town's key figures and some who just helped to keep them successful will come to life during the evening. A father and young daughter (six to ten years old) have the longest parts of the evening. While these do not have to be related, the child should be a Bethel "native."

Many non-actors are needed to do production work: costuming, set building, lighting, audio, stage management, props and general help. There is a place in the pageant for anyone who wants to work and have a wonderful time in the process of rediscovering the past and the present in an unusual and entertaining way.

At a first Try-Out session June 3, several people signed up to be in the show. Many more are needed. To sign up, or for more information, call Natalie Timberlake 824-2234 or Arlene Brown 824-2149.

A chorus and solo musical selections are under the direction of Linda Hathaway Stowell. She wants boys, girls, men and women of all ages to answer her call for singing voices. For more information about music, call Stowell at 836-2221.

TELSTAR DAY CAMP

Girls in grades one through eight are invited to attend the Telstar Day Camp at Worthy Pond in Peru, from July 29 to August 2.

Crafts, new songs, cooking over a campfire, overnight camping, hiking, swimming and making new friends are among the activities.

The theme for this year's Telstar Day Camp is "Being Strong and Staying Safe." Girls in grades five through eight will be staying at camp for three nights and the younger girls will have one overnight.

There will also be canoe instruction and an optional canoe trip. Transportation is provided to and from camp. The fee is $66 for non-campers and $60 for registered campers. Camp will be Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

For further information or an application, contact the Kennebec Girl Scout Council at 1-800-660-1072, or Mrs. Milligan at 364-2345.

LOVING MEMORIES

Your gentle face and patient smile With sadness we recall You had a kindly word for each And died beloved by all.

The voice is mute and stilled the heart, That loved us well and true, Ah, bitter was the trial to part From one so good as you.

You are not forgotten loved one Nor will you ever be, As long as life and memory last We will remember thee.

We miss you now, our hearts are sore As time goes by we miss you more, Your loving smile, your gentle face, No one can fill your vacant place.

Happy Father's Day Dad, we miss you so much!
